Elise and Jon Fletcher with Elliot, Sam and Bow have been working in a slum in Bangkok, Thailand. The situation has changed, so the family is looking for clear direction.

Since 2014 the Fletcher family were living in Klong Toey with UNOH, working with RoyRack Creative supporting local women making jewellery. Elise is now in UK with Elliot and Bow, helping her parents. Jon is in Thailand with UNOH, and also with Alternative Care Thailand working with children from broken families. Sam is in school in Thailand. All are in the UK for a year from July

The people in one slum in which UNOH work are to be evicted. The RoyRack Creative jewellery is developing. The training of local youngsters has led to the first graduation.

Adopting Bow, led Jon and Elise to Alternative Care Thailand and the Child Adoption Centre. Children from broken families end up in an institution. Being in a family, such as through adoption, is much better, but training is needed. Jon is part of a dedicated team, despite an unhelpful

Pray for:

- Family life in two places; Elliot and Bow at school in Shrewsbury and Sam at school in Bangkok
- Good health for the family, especially Bow
- Guidance for Jon with ACT
- Full healing for Elise's mother
- Thanks for one year visas for Thailand
- Thanks for Bow settling well in the UK
- Finance for the family

LAMB (Lutheran Aid to Medicine in Bangladesh), Parbatipur.

LAMB is an Integrated Rural Health & Development Project, including a 100-bed general hospital and an extensive community health programme. They show Christian concern for the poor and under-privileged, especially for women and children. They train key health staff.

LAMB Health raises finance for the LAMB Poor Fund for the relief of poverty, sickness and disability. They promote its model of integrated health care and community development.

LAMB programmes encourage safer deliveries, delay in the age of marriage for teenagers, mental well-being and greater awareness of the danger of floods. The training centre offers practical and academic courses for rural health workers, nurses and midwives working in rural clinics and hospitals.

Please pray for:

- All the staff, facing great need and limited resources
- For improved spiritual, physical, social and emotional health
- The Christian foundation to be clear
- Visas for overseas staff
- the right leader for LAMB following Kyle

Kimbilio
 Children's Sanctuary
 in the D.R Congo

Helping children build a future with hope, supporting street children in Lubumbashi, D.R. Congo

Kimbilio, which means sanctuary in Swahili, has been working with children living on the streets of Lubumbashi in the south of the DRC since 2009. They help them overcome their personal challenges and begin to build a future with hope.

The charity is administered from the UK by Ian Harvey. The Congolese staff team, under the Anglican Diocese, run a day centre offering a rehabilitation programme with education and training in health and nutrition. Kimbilio also seeks to reunite children with their families wherever possible and appropriate. Two homes help children in transit and two more offer longer term accommodation on a site that also includes a chapel and a newly opened school serving local community as well as the homes. The four key areas of service provision are prevention, street outreach, rehabilitation and reintegration.

Please pray for:

- Survival, physical and mental health for vulnerable children on the streets
- Children to be successfully reintegrated into families
- Provision of a new day centre
- Wisdom and resources for the staff team
- Administration of the new school
- The political situation in DRC, for peace
