Workplace Diary 2024

Workplace Diary 2024

In our prayers for our workplace, we are focusing on the goodness of our Heavenly Father and the blessings that He pours out on us as we work.

We are praying that our colleagues know the power of God in their lives and that God will transform the organisations where we work. Each day there is a short reading and guidance for reflection. We encourage you to join with colleagues if you already know or can find other Christians in your workplace.

We would encourage you to pray for five colleagues who do not yet know the love of our Heavenly Father that they may experience His love and commit themselves to Him.

Be as open and creative as you can be in your workplace, using the other resources available on the Thy Kingdom Come web site. Some ideas include putting the prayer station posters up around your workplace, having a prayer post box in your foyer to pray for colleagues, maybe prayer walking on Day 6 Walks with Us.

Thu 9 May - Day 1 Ascension

- Reading: Luke chapter 24 verses 50-53.
- As we meet together to pray for our workplace today, we remember how our Heavenly Father sent us His only Son Jesus to reconcile us to Him. Jesus is now ascended and prays for us.
- Jesus was a worker, a craftsman, a self-employed worker. Consider the dedication he would have shown to his work, to his customers, the quality of his workmanship.
- Today agree or confirm five colleagues to pray for and commit them to God. Let us also lift up any of our colleagues in need today that they may know the love of God in Jesus.
- Over the next few days, let us rise to the challenge of following Jesus in our workplace, to care for those we work with and to deliver great service to our customers.

Fri 10 May - Day 2 Loves

- Reading: John chapter 3 verse 16.
- Our Heavenly Father loves us so much He sent His Son to die for us so that we should have everlasting life
- Every day is a new day, full of opportunity. Great is God's faithfulness, new every morning are his mercies. The God who made the universe is with us every day in our workplace, caring for us and wanting to share the work day with us – the frustrations, the challenges, the pain of failure, the thrill of achievement.
- God is with us whether we are working physically together or online. He is our ever-present help in times of trouble. He loves us and our colleagues unconditionally.
- Let us pray for a rising awareness of the love of our Heavenly Father in our workplace, that we may praise Him and give Him the glory. Let us name the five colleagues we are praying for and ask God that their hearts may be opened to Him.
- Let us be increasingly conscious of the needs of those we work with and get alongside them in love as we work. Why not ask those you work with whether there is anything they need prayer for.

If you work a Monday-Friday week, you may want to use the weekend reflections individually and share your experiences next Monday.

Alternatively, you could join together with your work colleagues online at the same time each day.

Sat 11 May - Day 3 Speaks

- Reading: 2 Timothy chapter 3 verses 16-17.
- As we come before our Father in prayer each day, He speaks to us, giving us guidance through the Holy Spirit. He speaks directly to us, through our colleagues, through our experiences at work and most especially when we read the Bible.
- Reading the Bible on our own or with colleagues can help us to understand the value of our work and how we can give glory to God through it.
- Reflect on how God provides us with the insight for innovation, the creativity to bring products and services to market, the resilience when we are under pressure, the joys of success.
- Spend time letting God speak to you about how you can help to transform the culture and values of your workplace.
- Pray for your five colleagues and ask God to speak to them in whatever they are doing today.

Sun 12 May - Day 4 Creates

- Reading: Genesis chapter 1, verses 1 and 27.
- The same God who created the heavens and the earth is interested in our daily work and He can bring fresh thinking and fresh creativity to our work, wherever we work.
- Today, let us reflect on the week that has passed in our work, confess our failures and receive forgiveness and new life for the new week. Ask our Heavenly Father to help us see new ways of living at work where we can enrich the lives of our colleagues, to give us open hearts and minds to create a more vibrant, loving community wherever we work.
- Let us commit ourselves to do better in this new week, to look out for those who are finding work difficult and stretch out a hand to help.
- Remember to pray for our five colleagues and for creative ways to reach out to them in love.

Mon 13 May - Day 5 Gives

- Reading: Matthew chapter 7 verses 7 -11.
- Our Heavenly Father delights to give us the desires of our hearts. As our Heavenly Father pours out blessings on us, let us also give ourselves away to our work colleagues this week.
- Pray that God would warm your heart to be able to witness to your colleagues.
- Consider who in your workplace feels marginalised, unnoticed, ignored. How could you give your time and energy to help them feel valued? Could you do this as a prayer group?
- Choose to spend time with someone on the outside today and get to know them. Let them know you care and offer the love that your Heavenly Father shows you every day.

Tue 14 May - Day 6 Walks with us

- Reading: Psalm 23 verses 1-6.
- Our Father is not a distant God, Jesus taught His disciples to be intimate with the Father, saying Abba Father. He walks with us throughout our lives – whatever is happening in our workplace, He is with us there.
- There can be many frustrations in our workplace, and we can be tempted to react in negative ways, talking harshly to our colleagues, cutting corners and trying to avoid hard or tedious activities. It is into this environment that our Father sent His only Son Jesus, so He understands our work challenges.
- Jesus encourages us to bring our needs to our Heavenly Father, who loves to supply our needs. There are many things to pray for in our workplaces – peace and tolerance between colleagues, healing where there is division, guidance in making decisions, perseverance in difficult or tedious activities.
- Reflect on the challenges in your workplace and bring them to God in prayer. Resolve to talk to Him through the day and pray for situations as they arise.
- Pray for your five colleagues that they may see us walking with God and want to know more.

Wed 15 May - Day 7 Listens

- Reading: 1 John chapter 5 verses 14-15.
- Busyness and business are two different things, but so often we confuse them. We can practise being aware of the presence of our Father in our workplace, learning how to be still inside, regardless of any external pressures.
- Our Father provides guidance as we come to Him during our working day. He helps us to maintain a sense of purpose and worth throughout the challenges of our working day, when technology or suppliers fail us, when we have a hectic day of meetings, or we are unable to meet the expectations of our customers.
- Let us seek to keep our prayer channel open today as we listen to God. Let the pressures of the day be relieved by His presence and a knowledge that He delights in us and in our colleagues.
- Come let us bring our successes and failures to Him throughout our working day, and share our faith with others, offering to pray for them if they need support. Remember to pray for your five colleagues asking God to provide opportunities to share your faith with them.

Thu 16 May - Day 8 Saves

- Reading: Psalm 46 verses 1-3.
- Our Heavenly Father knows when we are finding a working day hard, harder than usual, but He loves it when we cry out to Him for help in our troubles.
- We are called to help those around us, to be salt in the workplace, to improve the flavour of the culture we are in. As we pray for our workplace, let us ask our Father to show us who we can help, what opportunities there are for us to support our colleagues, and how does our workplace need to be saved or transformed.
- Let us consider how as an individual or as a prayer group we can bring our Father's love to our colleagues. Pray for your five colleagues that they may experience the love of the Father.
- Today, let's actively seek to be helpful to our colleagues, to actively look out for times when they may need or appreciate our support.

Fri 17 May - Day 9 Challenges

- Reading: Matthew chapter 28 verses 16-20.
- Jesus left His disciples with a challenge - to disciple the nations. We as workers have the same challenge - to disciple those we work with, to disciple our organisations.
- Let us pray today that we may provide examples in our working lives that bring our colleagues nearer to our Heavenly Father, that we may see ways to be light to our colleagues and that we may transform our work by His love.
- Pray for your five colleagues and ask that you may have an opportunity to explain the hope that lives within you.

This would be a good time to commit to continuing to pray together at work if you are praying in a group. Please let us know you are meeting in your workplace by registering here and let us know if you need any help to continue.

If you work a Monday-Friday week, you may want to use the weekend reflections individually and share your experiences next Monday. Alternatively you could join together with your work colleagues online at the same time each day.

Sat 18 May - Day 10 Empowers

- Reading: Isaiah chapter 61 verses 1-3.
- We are called to bring good news to our workplaces and to bring freedom, release, comfort, joy, and praise to our organisations.
- Our Heavenly Father anoints and commissions us to be good news to our workplaces. Let us listen to His voice revealing to us how we can be transformed so that the light of Christ is visible in us and will help transform our workplace, our relationships with colleagues, customers and suppliers.
- Let God bring to mind the experiences of the last week in the workplace. In the good times and the bad times, ask His forgiveness for any failures and praise Him for any wins.
- Listen to what God has to say about your workplace and write down anything that may be helpful in the coming week. Resolve to share these words of life with your prayer group if you are not meeting today.
- Pray once again for your five colleagues that they may feel God's love today.

Sun 19 May - Day 11 Pentecost

- Reading: Acts chapter 2 verses 1-4.
- Jesus promised to send his followers the Holy Spirit as a comforter to us. Today we think about how The Holy Spirit came upon the first disciples at Pentecost, the courage this gave them and how the Holy Spirit enabled them to move forward in power.
- The Holy Spirit came when the disciples were gathered together in prayer.
- Welcome the Holy Spirit to come into your workplace, to transform your workplace and to enable God's kingdom of love and peace to come.
- Again, pray for your five colleagues to experience the power of the Holy Spirit in their lives.

We hope you have enjoyed praying for your workplace, this can be the start of a journey and we encourage you to continue the practice. Please let us know you are meeting in your workplace by registering here and let us know if you need any help to continue.
